

Johnson Investment Counsel announces two new shareholders

New shareholders strengthen the firm's commitment to client-first service and trusted counsel

CINCINNATI, OHIO (June 17, 2026) - Johnson Investment Counsel is excited to announce the addition of two new shareholders to the firm: Andrea Ernst, CFP®, and Andrew Kucia, CFP®. Both work in the wealth management division at the Kenwood office in Cincinnati.

"Andrea and Andrew both exemplify the values that define Johnson Investment Counsel," said CEO Jason Jackman. "Shareholder ownership is reserved for individuals who demonstrate an unwavering commitment to our clients, our culture and the highest standards of service that have guided our firm for decades. Their dedication helps advance our mission and positions us for continued success."

Ernst and Kucia bring the firm's shareholders to a total of 51, continuing Johnson Investment Counsel's longstanding commitment to employee ownership and leadership development. The appointments follow the addition of six shareholders introduced in 2025.

Johnson Investment Counsel has scaled significantly since the firm's creation in 1965, expanding its services to include asset management, trust services, family office services and a charitable gift fund. With clients in 50 states and 167 employees with offices in Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dayton, Columbus and Detroit, the firm has amassed $23 billion in assets under management while remaining 100% employee-owned, an intentional decision made by founder Tim Johnson in 2001.

"We've grown exponentially over the past 60+ years, yet our commitment to putting clients first has remained constant," said Jackman. "Our 100% employee-owned structure is a deliberate choice that aligns our team's interests with those of our clients and fosters long-term relationships built on trust. Our independence allows us to focus solely on what is best for our clients, free from outside pressures of competing priorities."

Selected on both tenure and performance, shareholders must consistently share in the firm's client-first mindset.
